Rabi Crops Get ₹22,303 cr Fert Subsidy

Cabinet okays nutrient-based fertiliser subsidy rates for rabi season 2023-24; below rates for kharif season

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The Union cabinet approved nutrient-based fertiliser subsidy rates for rabi season 2023-24 with an outlay of ₹22,303 crore to ensure farmers' cost in line to soil nutrients at reasonable rates despite high global prices.

The subsidy for the upcoming rabi season will be applicable from October 1, 2023, till March 31, 2024, information and broadcasting minister Anand Thakur said at a press meeting on Wednesday.

These rates are, however, below those during the kharif season. For instance, the nitrogen subsidy announced in May for this year's kharif season was ₹75 per kg, while that for phosphorus was ₹41 per kg.

"Farmers will continue to get fertilizer at last year's rates," said Thakur.

The Centre was to spend ₹44,000 crore in 2023-24 on nutrient-based fertilizer subsidies according to the budget for this financial year. However, within the first five months of the fiscal, it spent ₹24,111 crore or 55% of the budget estimate. The total nutrient-based fertilizer subsidy this fiscal could reach ₹36,481 crore, 83% more than the budgeted amount, according to people aware of the matter.

JAMNAMI DAMPROJECT

The cabinet also approved the inclusion of Jamnami Dam Multipurpose Project in Uttar Pradesh under the Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchayee Yojana-Accelerated Irrigation Benefit Programme.

The project, which will be completed by March 2024 at a cost of ₹2,250 crore, will have a dam being built on the Gola river near Jamnami village in Nainital district. The Centre will bear 90% of the project cost, said Thakur.

It will help irrigate an additional 37,060 hectares of land in Uttar Pradesh and Bihar.

The project will also involve construction of two new feeder canals, renovation of 307 km of existing canals.

BARCLAYS STUDY For 8% Growth, Women Need to Bag Over 50% of New Jobs

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Women need to account for over half the new jobs created by 2030 for India to achieve an 8% growth rate, a new Barclays study said Wednesday.

The formal labour force participation rate would have to rise six percentage points to 53% from 47% in 2023-23 for growth to jump from 6.5% to 8% in 2030, Barclays economists stated.

"Of the roughly 10 million estimated increase in labour force, around 5 million (50%) would have to come from women, which implies only a partial convergence of male-to-female job rates - that is, for every male job, there would be 1.4 male workers in 2020, versus 2.0 currently," the report said.

The report said besides increased female labour force participation, there was also a need to shift the workers away from agriculture to non-agriculture activities. Nearly half the workforce is still employed in agriculture, despite the sector generating just 15% of output.

PSBs told to Speed Up Sale of Defaulters' Properties

Lenders asked to list 500,000 properties on app, new auction platform

Sheeral Tiwari
@sheeral@rediffmail.com

New Delhi: About half a million properties in the possession of state-owned lenders will be up for auction on an advanced property auction platform that can be accessed through a mobile app. The finance ministry has asked state-owned banks to speed up the creation of the proposed platform and app, according to officials.

State-owned banks regularly issue advertisements listing properties for sale, typically those that have been seized because loans went bad. But the ads usually fly well below the radar of the general public. That's set to change.

Bidders will be able to look at the ownership type, photographs and videos of the property besides other details before submitting offers through their mobile phones.

The existing database shows more than 300 properties - commercial and residential - available in the National Capital Territory (NCT) region. Maharashtra has about 1,000 such properties. The all-India list includes residential, commercial and industrial properties as well as agricultural land.

"At a meeting held last month, the ministry told banks to fast-track the process of completing the eKRA listing and auction portal," said an official involved in the deliberations.

"Banks were told to coordinate and ensure that all technical and business issues were resolved," he said. "We expect the app and the new eKRA version to go live by the end of this year."

The eKRA project was launched in 2019 by the IBA as an auction platform to enable the online auction of attached assets by banks. It was to act as a single window access to information on properties up for auction and comparison of similar properties besides videos and photographs. But it is yet to take off. The finance ministry wants the lenders to hasten the setting up of the app and the updated platform that could bring about more transparency in the auctions conducted by lenders.

Weak Re Unlikely to Prompt Rate Hike: Nomura

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The Reserve Bank of India is unlikely to increase the policy rate in response to a weaker recovery, as has been done by the bank of the United States, said Nomura economists in a research note on Friday.

The global financial services group attached a 25% likelihood of rate hikes in the next six months if global financial conditions tightened further and geopolitical risks rose, with little using its foreign exchange reserves as the first line of defence.

"We believe the bar for the RBI to hike policy rates in response to a weaker recovery is high, because it is primarily a flexible inflation targeting central bank, and it will use other tools to mitigate risks," said Nomura economists Soma Varma and Anandeej Nair.

The RBI's monetary policy committee, earlier this month, held the policy rate at 6.5%.

Formal Employment Additions Drop in Aug

Our Bureau

New Delhi: New entrants to the government's three social security schemes declined in August, suggesting slower growth in formal employment that month, provisional data released on Wednesday showed.

The slowdown was much more pronounced in higher-paying jobs, as new entrants in the Employers' Provident Fund (EPF) scheme declined 13.5% to 32,56,504 in August, the lowest level so far this fiscal year, compared with 37.1 million in July.

However, new subscriptions to the EPF scheme, which also covers people who have exited the workforce and those who have rejoined, were at the highest level at 1.1 million since the start of the year.

Trends indicate that net subscription data is usually revised downwards as the extent of exits from the EPF scheme gets an upward revision. In August, 44,362 people ceased to be EPF members, more than half the average of 1 million between April and July 2023.

New subscribers to Employees' State Insurance Corporation declined at a slower rate of 4.9% to 1.43 million in August. ESI, which usually caters to lower-paying jobs, applies to esteebeneficiaries with over 10 workers, whereas EPF is applicable to establishments with over 20 workers.

Data released for another pension scheme, the National Pension Scheme, also indicated a decline in new enrolments to 71,228 in August on the peak of 82,000 achieved last month. While central government and state government enrolments increased, new subscriptions from the corporate sector more than halved to 13,829 in August.

Steel Crash Barriers may Make (High)way for Cheaper Bamboo

To bring down construction cost by up to 20%

Yogita Sharma

New Delhi: India is looking to replace steel crash barriers on highway with bamboo, to make them safer while bringing down overall construction cost.

The technology, patented in India and licensed to the European Safety Standards, is expected to give a significant push to the green economy and bring down the cost of construction of highways by up to 20%.

A senior government official told PTI that the ministry of road, transport and highways plans to initiate trial projects across 26 states covering a length of 10 km of highway over the next six-eight months.

"In the subsequent phase, the ministry will assess the feasibility and potential benefits of scaling up bamboo crash barriers, which could be significant too for growers," and the official said, adding production volumes increase, it is expected that costs of constructing such barrier could come down by 30%-35%.

The price of existing barriers depends on biomass, weight and durability of material used and varies from ₹2,000-₹2,500 per metre.

The ministry has already run pilots and is now keen for its actual use as part of its green highway initiative.

Bamboo, when compared to the daily escalation in steel prices driven by shortages and rising challenges, is poised to offer significant cost savings when compared to steel, the official said.

Bamboo's hollow circular structure with robust interlocking fibres in the trunks and flexibility and ensures that it swiftly regains its original shape after a vehicle impact.

"This not only enhances safety for vehicles, but also minimises damage to the vehicle itself," the official added.

A specialised treatment process on bamboo can enhance its durability and longevity ensuring its resilience in various weather conditions.

India is the world's second-largest bamboo growing country after China and has over 13 million hectares of land under bamboo cultivation with annual production of 10 million tonnes per year.

Besides, it is the fastest-growing and resilient plant that demands minimal water and maintenance, hence ecologically sustainable. It could also provide a boost to rural and farm incomes as an additional crop.

The material could also be replaced by Indian Railways for strengthening railway tracks.
